

The San Carlos Indians.

During the last month or more much ado has been made over a possible outbreak among these Indians. Some of our Territorial exchanges have gone so far as to place us on the very verge of a great calamity. Another Apache war! The causes alleged were a want of rations and of troops. Troops make money, but don't always make peace. The Eighth Infantry wouldn't have killed a hostile Apache if they had been kept in Arizona twenty years. They did more to engender strife than to preserve peace while they were here. We did well to get rid of them. There was some cause for alarm on account of the failure of the ration supply at San Carlos. This was caused by red tape—late appropriations—and a want of practical business management and good common sense at the Indian office. The Indians from the Rio Verde to the Rio Grande were concentrated at San Carlos and promised food from the Government. They can't live there unless they are fed. If they have fair rations and fair management they will remain at peace. If they are not fed they will steal and fight whether the Eighth Infantry is here or in Idaho. The strength of our peace and our security against hostile Indians is in our Indian policy and Indian scouts. Troops are useful, but the record of our Indian scouts vindicates their efficiency in the punishment of hostiles. Secretary Schurz and Commissioner Hayt must reform their end of the business before we are perfectly secure. Government pledges with the Sioux, the Nez Percés and the Bannocks were broken, and the result was war. A want of good faith on our part toward the Apaches will produce equally disastrous results, but with rations and common justice the San Carlos Indians will remain at peace. We learn that a new supply of rations has been received at the agency; we shall hope for the "common justice," and hence fears of an "impending crisis" may be laid aside for the present.

John G. Campbell.

Last week we devoted a column to the consideration of this exceedingly accommodating gentleman. Since that time the Hon. J. G. C. has come and gone without giving THE CITIZEN any new points. Perhaps he considers us too well informed already and hence he omitted to honor us with a call, or possibly he thought we were very busy and his accommodating nature would not allow him to interfere with our duties. It was by mere accident that we caught so much as a glimpse of this "gratuitous" candidate. We stopped the Yuma bound coach on the highway, and too late for our personal safety, we discovered that "The Pioneer Merchant of Prescott" was on it. Not literally "on it" but only on the back seat. He shook our hand as though he thought we were plagued with a felon, which we are quite sure was not the case—not even for the time being—(nothing personal in that). Just about this time we heard or imagined we heard the soul thrilling cry of War! Wah! Wah! Wah! The driver evidently thought the Apaches had been started out at San Carlos and were just about to devour horses, coach and candidate, and all. He made one grand effort and was beyond danger. In the twinkling of an eye "the man with a small fortune" was borne from our gaze, perhaps forever.

We had hoped that this north star would accommodate us with a political war-whoop, and tell us what the matter is with Kearney, Butler and the Enterprise job office, but no, alas for human hopes! He came in the dead of night, and after a brief and secluded visit, silently stole away. This is just the kind of a campaign we should expect from a man who has "nothing particularly to do." Very soon he will dawn upon the Yuma Exposition, a more congenial and voluble spirit, until then we rest.

For Congress.

Hon. A. E. Davis of Mohave county, has a card in this issue announcing himself a candidate for Congress at the November election. We have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with Mr. Davis, but those who know him best speak of him as a man of merit, ability and unimpeachable integrity, and one who would make an excellent delegate. We do not doubt, but that at some other time Mr. Davis could have secured an easy victory in the congressional contest, but this time he will not succeed. Mr. Stevens has too good a record and too many friends to be beaten by any opponent yet in the field.

Communication.

Forty-eight hours would be a fair time to allow the contractors to bring the mail from Yuma to Florence, and twelve hours more would take it on to Tucson. Instead of this they drag out nearly 100 hours between here and Yuma, and vary from 18 to 25 hours to Tucson. The telegraph line is always complaining of a goodness, scarcely ever up one whole day in a week. The telegraph is even slower than the Stage Company. What excellent communication with the outside world for a civilized community in this advanced age! We call upon ye mighty powers in Washington for aid.

No Trouble with Mexico.

WASHINGTON, August 8.—Assistant Secretary of State Seward said today in reply to an inquiry as to the relations between the United States and Mexico that they are of a most pacific character and that no apprehensions are entertained of trouble between the two Governments. It is not believed here in diplomatic quarters that Mexico's President will inflict any severe punishment upon Gen. Escobedo.

Awards at the Paris Exposition.

PARIS, August 7.—The names of the successful competitors of the International Exposition will soon be made public. General Walker, of the American delegation to the International Monterey Congress, has arrived here.

Terrible Explosion of a Russian Powder Magazine.

BUCHAREST, August 8.—By the explosion of a Russian powder magazine at Fratesti, yesterday, fifty-six persons were killed and thirty-one injured.

The Orange Troubles.

MONTREAL, August 6.—The Orangemen decline the proposal of the Catholic party to test the legality of the Order by civil proceedings in the test case before the Privy Council, and the prosecution will proceed in the Police Court.

Bogardus Again Wins.

LONDON, August 6.—In the great international pigeon-shooting match today between Captain Bogardus and Aubrey Coventry, Bogardus won by one bird.

Loss of Life by a Coal Mine Explosion.

LONDON, August 7.—An explosion has occurred in a coal mine near Berwick. Thirty-three men are supposed to be killed.

Sickness Among Russians.

LONDON, August 7.—It is said that 47,000 Russians are sick in Bulgaria, and constant reinforcements are necessary to keep up the effective strength of the army. Generals Toldelben and Schvaloff are down with typhus fever.

Virulent Fever Among American Laborers in Brazil.

PANAMA, July 29.—Virulent fever has broken out among American laborers on the Madera and Mamore Railroad, Brazil, and numbers of them are dying daily. The laborers were taken out by Collins & Co., Philadelphia.

Governor Hoyt.

Hon. John P. Hoyt was formally appointed Governor of Idaho on the 8th instant, and the Prescott Enterprise of the 10th says:

In reference to last night's dispatch, confirming J. P. Hoyt's appointment to Idaho, he stated to us this morning that he should probably decline it and go to Tucson to engage, in connection with another gentleman, in the practice of law and other business. He received an offer by last mail, which he thinks favorably of and will perhaps accept.

Cause of the Hot Wave.

Professor Langley, of the Pittsburgh Observatory, rises to explain the reason of last week's excessive heat. He finds it owing to the fact that "the sun's face is at present free from spots almost beyond past remembrance." Next summer, he adds, the spots will begin to reappear and will go on increasing in number and expanding in size until they reach their maximum in 1882, when they will again almost or quite disappear in 1889.

Raiding Tramps.

At Stockton, on the 8th instant, tramps boarded the four o'clock west bound freight train, after being ejected by the conductor. One opened fire on the rear brakeman, who returned the fire, hitting the tramp in the stomach, wounding him dangerously. There was great excitement. Numbers of tramps gathered around the depot. The Sheriff, with posse was called. Trouble anticipated.

By the Sentinel we notice ex-Governor Safford was expected to arrive in Yuma on Wednesday with a party of five. They would rest a day there and then continue their journey Tucsonward by private conveyance. Accordingly they should be in Florence Sunday or Monday. The Governor has made a long, active visit and he will be warmly welcomed back to his native land.

Tyxo thinks Campbell is subsidizing various territorial newspapers. He devotes a column and a half of plain talk to this subject and it is possible Campbell will omit to call on George as he did us. Campbell must cover up his tracks better or he will squander "his small fortune" only to secure ignoble defeat.

A Boston correspondent, describing the meeting at Faneuil Hall, on Monday night, says: The great trouble with Dennis Kearney is, that he has absolutely nothing to say. He has as few ideas in his head as any man I ever heard speak. He has no facts, no statistics.

The Idaho Indian war is over. The Putes of Egan's band have all been captured. Egan himself has been killed, and the Bannocks are divided up in small parties and fleeing for their lives.

Capt. W. P. Martin of the Quartermaster Department, is ordered to Tucson on temporary duty.

It is evident that the Yuma Exposition's voice is for "War!" It is a Campbellite.
